Fall Prevention In Residential Construction

Training Seminar

How much do you think only 1 serious OSHA FALL PROTECTION violation could cost you?

$500? $3,000? $ 13,260?

If you guessed $13,260, you're absolutely right! And that's for EACH serious violation.

To help you avoid costly fines and protect workers, the Job-Site Safety Institute (JSI) in partnership with National Association of Home Builders and Southern NH HBRA is conducting a 4-hour Fall Prevention in Residential Construction Training seminar for builders, trade contractors, supervisors and workers. This training program focuses on identifying fall hazards in residential construction, as well as, providing attendees an understanding of the OSHA fall protection regulations and safe work practices to prevent fall-related injuries and deaths.

Specifically, the seminar will teach you how to:

- Recognize common fall hazards in residential construction
- Identify when fall protection is required
- Determine which protection system to use for a given fall hazard
- Understand the key requirements and basic safety practices for each protection system
- Understand the safety requirements and practices for ladders and scaffolding

Make plans to attend today—a safe jobsite protects both your company and your workers, it'll be the most informative 4 hours you've ever spent learning!

gives us an industry update from the state level

We had a good sized group of members and friends together on October 7th for NETWORKING and the Installation of our leadership in Windham, NH. They enjoyed delicious apps and drinks while catching up on local building industry happenings. Senator Regina Birdsell assisted with our ceremony and spoke with members during the social hour. We thank her for taking time out of her busy schedule to be part of our event.

SBA, Treasury Ease PPP Forgiveness Requirements for Loans of $50,000 or Less

U.S. Small Business Administration

Filed in Advocacy, Disaster Response, Housing Finance on October 9, 2020

The U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA), in consultation with the Treasury Department, has released a simpler loan forgiveness application for business owners who received Paycheck Protection Program (PPP) loans of $50,000 or less.

“Today’s action streamlines the forgiveness process for PPP borrowers with loans of $50,000 or less and thousands of PPP lenders who worked around the clock to process loans quickly,” said Treasury Secretary Steven Mnuchin. “We are committed to making the PPP forgiveness process as simple as possible while also protecting against fraud and misuse of funds. We continue to favor additional legislation to further simplify the forgiveness process.”

NAHB views this as a positive development and has been urging Congress and the Trump administration to create a streamlined, simplified forgiveness process for PPP loans. But more needs to be done. We continue to call on the White House and Democratic leaders to put politics aside and get back to the negotiating table to hammer out a coronavirus stimulus package that will help struggling renters with dedicated rental assistance and allow HBAs to access small business loans under the PPP.
